Black Beauty

Farmer Gray was the kindest master in the world. He was proud of me, and called me Black Beauty. I had a white spot on my forehead and one white foot. He trained me to pull a carriage. Then I learn to wear a saddle and carry a rider on my back.

One day, Farmer Gray said, "A good horse like you do not live on a farm. So you will be going to live with Squire Gordon and his family."¹ I was very sad to leave my mother and my home.

However, when I saw my masters I knew I would be happy with them. They lived in a big mansion and welcomed me warmly. Mrs. Gordon was pale and ill, but she smiled when she saw me.

The groom who looked after the stables was John Manly. He loved horses. He introduced me to Merry legs, the children's pony, Ginger, and old mare. She was not a bad horse, but had been ill-treated in the past.

Slovakia upsets France in Fed Cup

Reuters•

Bratislava•

Daniels Hantuchova outplayed Amelie to give Slovakia a surprise win over France and clinch a Fed Cup semifinal spot.

Hantuchova and Martina Sucha both won their reverse singles to put the tie beyond the 1997 champions. After a jittery start against the powerful French number one, Hantuchova hit back to claim an impressive 2-6 6-4 6-3 victory before Sucha edged out Nathalie Dechy 7-6 6-1. Mauresmo broke serve twice to take the first set in 29 minutes but Hantuchova, who has recently captured the attention of the media for both her solid play and good looks, began to take risks and leveled the match. The French 23-year-old came out strong in, the third set to break Hantuchova's serve but she could not sustain the pressure and Hantuchova broke twice to seal victory.
